

Today we're in week three of our eight-week sermon series called Solid Ground. This series is all about building our lives on a firm spiritual foundation. What if true change wasn't just about trying harder but about becoming completely new? This Sunday, we're diving into the incredible truth of regeneration—how God doesn't just improve us, He transforms us. Through the story of a rockstar's radical faith and the journey of C.S. Lewis from atheism to belief, we'll see how God takes even the most reluctant hearts and makes them new. Don't miss this powerful message of hope, renewal, and the life-changing work of Christ in us. Join us and discover what it truly means to be made new!

1. The sermon started with the story of Brian Welch, a man whose life was radically changed by God. Think about your own journey, what was your life like before you encountered Christ? What changes have you seen since then?
2. Regeneration is completely a work of God. Read John 1:12-13 and Ezekiel 36:26. What do these passages teach us about being born again? Why is it important to understand that we play no active role in our own regeneration?
3. Before we experience regeneration, sin holds a powerful grip on our lives. Read Titus 3:3 and discuss how sin influences people's thoughts, actions, choices and relationships. Where did sin once have control over your life?
4. In Titus 3:4-5 we learn that salvation comes not because of our righteousness but because of God's kindness and mercy. How have you experienced God's kindness in your life? How does His mercy change the way we view others?
5. Read Titus 3:5-6, John 3:5-8, and 1 Peter 1:3. What do these passages say about the role of Jesus and the Holy Spirit in our regeneration? How can we be more aware of the Spirit's work in our daily lives?
6. Regeneration isn't just about forgiveness, it's about becoming a completely new person in Christ. Read 2 Corinthians 5:17. What does it mean to live as a new creation? What are some practical ways we can reflect this transformation in our everyday lives?
7. C.S. Lewis, once an atheist, was transformed by Christ and became a powerful advocate for the gospel. Who in your life needs to hear about the power of regeneration? Take a moment to pray for them and discuss how you can share your faith with them this week.
8. Close your time in prayer, thanking God for His transformative power in your lives.
